Introduction

The Fleet Operator Recognition Scheme (FORS) is an industry-led accreditation scheme that aims to promote road freight as a safe and sustainable mode of transportation in a way that supports economic growth and environmental targets whilst helping to improve our quality of life.

FORS is a voluntary scheme that encourages sustainable best practice for fleet operators. At its core, FORS promotes safe working practices, legal compliance and a corporate social responsibility to improve the performance of fleet operators.

2. Application process

2.1 Application form

If you would like to apply to become a FORS accredited company you must first register, by completing the FORS application form. It can be accessed online at www.fors-online.org.uk or a hard copy can be requested via email from: enquiries@fors-online.org.uk.

At registration and on each anniversary you will need to pay the relevant annual subscription fee, details of which are available on www.fors-online.org.uk.

Once you have completed and submitted the FORS application form, you will be bound by these Terms and Conditions.

2.2 Who can apply

Any person who operates or intends to operate, one or more commercial road freight vehicle(s) and/or road passenger vehicle(s) is entitled to apply to become a FORS accredited company.

2.3 Progression from registration to accreditation

If, after registering, no progress to accreditation has been made after 90 calendar days, your registration will be downgraded to Dormant. Dormant means that your organisation is no longer a FORS member, however, agrees to receiving information from FORS from time to time. Your organisation will no longer be listed on the website. If your registration is made Dormant, your annual subscription fee will not be refundable and you will need to pay the annual subscription fee again if you register to apply to become a FORS accredited company at a future date.

2.4 FORS audit

Within 90 calendar days of registration you shall request a FORS audit via your FORS certification body. The FORS audit will check and verify your operation against the FORS Standard. The audit will take the form of an on-site visit from an auditor from a FORS certification body.

The FORS auditor will arrange a time and date for the audit to take place and the relevant fee for the audit will be charged. You agree to comply with all reasonable requests of the FORS auditor. This will include the provision of evidence enabling the auditor to verify that you have implemented a management system, together with applicable policies, processes and procedures and undertaken risk assessments and can demonstrate that you manage risks to your operations.

You will also be expected to (a) demonstrate that you have the mechanisms to monitor the following basic measures that impact your operations and (b) collect data and initiate actions to minimise the impacts of the following areas:

- Fuel use
- Penalty Charge Notices
- Vehicle incidents
- Other Infringements

Full details of these measures and the entry-level criteria can be found in the FORS Standard.

Where an audit is failed, a follow-up audit must be undertaken to achieve FORS accreditation.

Where you employ the same operating policies and procedures across more than one operating centre and this can be confirmed by senior management in writing, you should advise which type of accreditation you wish to pursue.

Single Operating Centre Accreditation (SOCA) is available to a company wishing to have a single operating centre accredited, or individual operating centres accredited where the company has multiple operating centres but which do not have the same policies and procedures at each operating centre.

Multi-Operating Centre Accreditation (MOCA) is available to any company with multiple operating centres which have the same policies and procedures throughout. In order to obtain MOCA the following audits will be required on an annual basis:

- Between one and three operating centres - one successful audit is required to be completed at each operating centre;
- Between four and fifteen operating centres, three successful audits are required to be completed at different operating centres; and
- More than fifteen operating centres, twenty per cent (rounded up to the nearest whole number), will require a successful audit.

If you are a national fleet operator with three or more operating centres who conduct internal audits which align with the FORS Standard, Whole Fleet Accreditation (WFA) can be applied for. WFA accreditation is awarded to companies who can demonstrate widespread applicability of the FORS Standard to their operating centres, through an established internal transport management quality audit process.

The FORS MOCA and WFA accreditation may be at risk should one operating centre in scope of accreditation breach the requirements of the FORS Standard. The FORS provider retains the right to remove MOCA and WFA if deemed necessary due to the actions of any operating centres.

2.5 Payments for audits

Details of the total audit fee for the scope of accreditation whether for:

- a) SOCA, MOCA or WFA (as set out in condition 2.3); or
- b) follow up audits (as set out in condition 2.4), or;
- c) enhanced audits (as set out in condition 15.3), or;
- d) for follow up enhanced audits (as set out in condition 15.3)

will be confirmed by the FORS provider and will be paid at the time that the audits are booked, unless otherwise agreed with the FORS provider.

2.6 Eligibility for accreditation

The FORS provider will reject an application to become a FORS accredited company for operations that fail to meet the entry-level criteria and legal compliance, good practice and health and safety standards outlined within the FORS Standard.

If the FORS provider does not reasonably consider that your operation has met the entry-level criteria, the FORS provider will notify you and confirm the reasons why your operation does not meet the entry-level criteria. Additionally, the FORS provider will provide your operation with an action plan to enable you to achieve the entry-level accreditation criteria. If you do not agree with the FORS provider's findings, you will have 20 business days from the date of the FORS provider's notice to raise your concerns in writing with the FORS provider before the FORS provider issues its formal decision.

2.7 Accreditation award

If you successfully pass the audit by demonstrating that you comply with entry-level 'Bronze' accreditation criteria, as set out in the FORS Standard, you will become a FORS accredited company.

If you do not pass the audit, you will be issued with an action plan to help you achieve the required standard. You are then required to implement the guidance in the action plan in accordance with its terms and timescales. Once you have completed the action plan requirements, a follow-up audit will take place in accordance with condition 2.4. A follow-up audit will focus on the correction of any points outlined in the action plan.

If you fail to attain the Bronze entry level accreditation and no progression is made, as set out in the FORS Standard, within 90 calendar days from registering you will become a Dormant user. Dormant means that your organisation is no longer a FORS member, however, agrees to receiving information from FORS from time to time. Your organization will no longer be listed on the FORS website. You can apply again to be registered by following the procedure set out in condition 2.1.

3. Accreditation

3.1 Accreditation levels

There are three levels of FORS accreditation: Bronze, Silver and Gold. All companies will join FORS at the entry level of Bronze and will have the opportunity to progress to the higher Silver and Gold levels, subject to achieving the criteria for the next level of accreditation set out in the FORS Standard.

At all levels of FORS accreditation, your operation must demonstrate that it is maintaining and has maintained the requirements set out in the FORS Standard.

3.2 Progression

In order to progress to the next level of FORS accreditation, you will need to provide evidence for every operating centre in scope of accreditation demonstrating that they meet the specific requirements for the next level of accreditation. This includes providing performance data about your operations to the FORS provider for the purpose of performance monitoring and you will need to implement appropriate systems to capture such data to enable your progression through FORS. All data supplied to the FORS provider for the purpose of any benchmarking will be treated in accordance with Conditions 8 and 9.

3.3 Accreditation benefits

Once you become a FORS member, you will be entitled to receive the FORS benefits. Each level of FORS accreditation offers its own set of unique benefits. Certain benefits may be subject to European Union State Aid Rules and any limitations or special application of these rules will be covered within the requirements associated with those benefits.

This applies to public inquiries held for disciplinary reasons and transport manager repute as described in 3.4.3. This information must include any written decision provided by the Traffic Commissioner in relation to the public inquiry.

3.4.5 Failure to comply with this requirement may result in your FORS accredited status being suspended or terminated in accordance with Conditions 14 and 15. In the event of downgrade, suspension, withdrawal or termination you will not be entitled to the refund of any fees paid pursuant to registration, annual subscription, audits or any other FORS service. Complaints received about FORS accredited companies however received will be reviewed by the FORS provider and as required notified to the company setting out the detail of the complaint, the response requirement and the potential consequence of escalation or action.

3.5 Changes to FORS

The FORS provider reserves the right to change FORS at any time upon written notice to you, including amendments to these Terms and Conditions, the FORS Standard and the withdrawal and/or replacement of the FORS benefits. Where practicable, the FORS provider will endeavour to provide you with at least 30 calendar days notice before such changes are implemented. If you are not happy with any changes to FORS, then you will be entitled to withdraw from FORS upon written notice to FORS and the provisions of condition 15 will apply.

3.6 Changes to company details

You are responsible for promptly informing the FORS provider, and in any event within five business days, of any changes to the details of your operation in terms of structure, personnel, operating licence, number and size of vehicles and operating centres.

All notifications of changes to your details should be by email to the address stated in condition 2.1.
